THE REAL FOCUS OF ENGLISH, HISTORY,
RELIGIONS, AND LANGUAGE COURSES AT GS IS HUMANITY ITSELF. YOU'LL
BROADEN YOUR HORIZONS
TO SEE THE BIG PICTURE—AND YOUR PLACE IN IT.

English, history, language, and religions courses are taught with respectful discourse at the center, as students learn to listen closely, think deeply, and offer meaningful insights.

English: A diverse array of reading in various genres expands students' imaginations and develops critical, personal, and creative writing skills.

History: With emphasis on academic research and writing, students develop interpretive and analytical skills while focusing on issues that transcend national boundaries and encourage truly global citizenship.

Languages: Chinese, French, Latin, and Spanish are offered from introductory to advanced levels and taught for fluency and to help students gain an appreciation for cultures and ideologies different from their own.

Religions: Fostering spiritual development of each individual, courses provide a space of sanctuary amidst the busyness of daily life. Students are exposed to the essentials of a Quaker community and how these are embedded in the culture of George School.
